

Elizaveta Kon

Elizaveta Kon is associated professor at the Humanitas University in Milan and orthopedic surgeon at Center of Functional and Biological Reconstruction of the knee, Humanitas Research Hospital and also professor at the First Moscow State Medical University (Sechenov University) in Moscow. She acted as a Board member of different Italian and International scientific societies (ESSKA, SIGASCOT) and is incoming president of the ICRS. She is coordinator of numerous research projects and clinical trials regarding biotechnology applications in orthopedics. Her research is published in more than 250 articles and she is a leading expert on PRP.